

North Shattuck Parklets

Berkeley, California

TACTICAL INTERVENTION + PUBLIC REALM DESIGN

An emerging trend in cities throughout the United States and abroad, parklets re-purpose on-street parking spaces to create attractive pedestrian areas that enhance district character, and add value to nearby shops and services. City Design Collective is partnering with the North Shattuck Business Association in Berkeley's "gourmet ghetto" to facilitate public input and develop parklet design concepts to be located nearby two highly popular destinations. CDC designs incorporate opportunities for pedestrian seating, bicycle parking, and gathering spaces while ensuring a safe and attractive outdoor environment.

PROJECT FEATURES

- Parklet designs for two locations in Berkeley's 'gourmet ghetto'.
- Conceptual sketches and 3-D renderings.
- Preliminary construction methodology and analysis.

PRIMARY CLIENT

North Shattuck Business Association

STATUS

Design Review

ROLE

Prime Urban Design Consultant

RESPONSIBILITIES

Parklet Design, Community Outreach

REFERENCE

Heather Hensley

510-219-5524

en vision · enable · realize

www.citydesigncollective.com | 363 17th Street, Oakland CA 94612 | 415 378-2181